RESUME

ABOUT ME

Since I knew about programming, in my first college day, I was fascinated about it. Ever since I've studying it every day, that became part of my routine, not just learning in classes, but outside too, outside my classes hours. I am seeking every day of my life to come in a new level in programming, participating in free events, Hackathons, related material of it in the internet and projects offered by my professors, as well as my Institution offers. Investing too much in this content I can help my colleagues of my course (even the more are in advanced semester) giving extracurricular classes offered by the Institution. In addition I also give private classes for my colleagues of my class, under most difficult subjects, even not being a class monitor yet, or when they have some doubt in class. The reason that I am doing this is just to help them and let them in a new level too.
